Student town “SakuraJosui”

Abura-tei Sakurajosui is a ramen store located about a 3-minute walk from Sakurajosui Station, heading north along the Sakurajosui shopping street that runs from the station to Koshu Kaido. The store is said to be the originator of the B-class gourmet "Abura-men," and its signature product, "Abura-men," is a simple yet delicious dish of thick, firm noodles, pork, bamboo shoots, and chopped green onions. However, you need to be careful before going anywhere because of the smell of oil inside the restaurant. Furthermore, there are still attractive stores in the Sakurajosui shopping district. Located a minute walk from Sakurajosui Station is a store called "Woodpecker" is a bakery that focuses on homemade and additive-free products. Its most popular bread is called "Butter Bread. The store has a sign that says "No. 1 for 41 years since its opening. It is shaped like a hat and is very cute. The bottom feather is crispy and sweet, and the top bread is soft and satisfying. -In addition to these, Sakurajosui Shopping Street has many other stores and is popular with many people.

The Life of Shimotakaido

Shimotakaido station

Shimotakaido has a shopping street that can be said to be life. The shopping street has a very retro atmosphere and is fashionable.

Why the shopping street is said to be the life of Shimotakaido, because it greatly supports this area called Shimotakaido. For example, there are all the necessary things such as convenience stores and supermarkets in this shopping street. In addition, Shimotakaido Shopping Street boasts more than 250 stores, and even though it is close to Shinjuku in the city center, there are many stores. And the most important thing is fresh food. There are many shops dealing with fresh food in Shimotakaido.

In addition, there are shops in the shopping street where you can live comfortably from the old to young people.

If you are young or middle-aged men, there are also ramen shops called Jiro-kei such as Ramen Dai. That's why this shopping street supports the city called Shimotakaido.

Shimotakaido is a city with many young people, such as many schools nearby. Among them, it becomes very important to have this shopping street. I would like to cherish the city so that it can continue to be a good city in the future.

Why are there so many temples! ?

Chitose Karasuyama station

The Karasuyama area has so many temples that you can go on a temple tour. We will try to find out why so many temples were gathered here.

There are many temples in Karasuyama, and there are 26 of them. The reason for this is the impact of the Great Kanto Earthquake.

During the Great Kanto

Earthquake, many temples originally located in urban areas such as Asakusa and Tsukii were damaged. Therefore, we were forced to relocate. Land prices in the Karasuyama areas are high now.

Karasuyama region due to its high population density and convenient transportation such as trains and buses, but at the time, the Karasuyama region was a farming village, so land prices were low, and temples were built. It was the perfect place to move to.

In addition to this the nearby Koshu Kaido Road provides convenient transportation, which is also cited as a reason why many temples have relocated. There are now more than 20 temples here, and the place is called Karasuyama Temple Town.

The most famous shrine among them is Karasuyama Shrine. It is said to have been founded by the Kira clan, the lord of Setagaya, during the Muromachi period. It was once called Hakusan Shrine, but the name was changed to Karasuyama Shrine after three shrines were enshrined together.

Cooperation between local governments and students revealed through parks

In recent years, according to the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications, the number of parks has increased by 1.0% over the previous year.

Setagaya Ward, which ranks second in the number of parks in Tokyo's 23 wards, is no exception.

Parks are the best places for children to play and get in touch with nature. In this article, we will focus on Kamikitazawa, a neighborhood near a school (about 15 minutes from Shinjuku on the Keio Line), where efforts are underway to protect parks.

There are at least six parks in Kamikitazawa, according to our research. Since the majority of park maintenance costs are covered by taxes, we thought that one problem with the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications' data would be that the existence of many parks would lead to higher maintenance costs. Recently, accidents due to aging playground equipment have been on the rise. Without sufficient money to spend, restoration is not possible and dangerous.

Looking at the budget for restoration costs for parks in Setagaya Ward (citation 1) here, the cost is about 210 million yen, or about 350,000 yen per park when divided by the number of parks in Setagaya Ward (citation

2). For example, the cost of repairing a slide is about 190,000 yen.

The cost of repairing a slide, for example, would be about 190,000 yen. In this light, the maintenance cost of a single park seems low.

In contrast, Setagaya Ward is working to generate income other than taxes. For example, Setagaya Ward is working to generate non-tax revenue by inviting kitchen cars, restaurants, and vending machines to the park. We believe that if we hold these initiatives in Kamikitazawa parks, we can protect Kamikitazawa parks. I also believe that it is important for us students not to overlook this issue, but to take it seriously and participate in these efforts on a school-by-school basis.

Approaching the secret of the popularity of Chitose Karasuyama Shopping Street!

about 33 times different from 3 million.

There are two reasons to introduce why Chitose Karasuyama Shopping Street developed.

The first is the stamp business. It is a kind of event that is adopted in Chitose Karasuyama Shopping Street, and it has certain points for shopping.

If you earn these points, you can participate in various events such as Disney tickets and accommodation trips.

This stamp is used by more than 90% of people who use the shopping street.

This stamp continues to support the shopping street after 50 years of publication.

The second is the charm of the shopping street.

In Chitose Karasuyama Shopping Street, there are many shops that are close to local people, but among them, there are many restaurants for drinking parties and families.

It's a store for the accompanying customers.

Also, the ward center in the shopping street is a place for residents to relax.

Hachimanyama city

Hachimanyama Shopping Street is a favorite place for locals in Setagaya Ward, Tokyo. With numerous stores and events, it offers a lively townscape and fun.

In this article, we will introduce the charms of Hachimanyama Shopping Street.

1. Hachimanyama Shopping Street has many local stores. There are restaurants, cafes, general merchandise stores, candy shops, and many other types of stores.

Stores loved by locals have a special charm that can only be experienced here. Visitors can also enjoy the unique atmosphere of the shopping street. A total of 49 retro street lights have been installed, giving visitors the feeling of stepping back in time.

2. Events are held in the Hachimanyama shopping street.

For example, the "Wasshoi Hachimanyama" event, now in its 24th year, is a lively event with a delicious festival menu, a stage, a bingo tournament with gorgeous prizes, and a lucky draw.

Other events include an early morning radio calisthenics gathering, which has grown from a small gathering of local baseball players to a large event that attracts as many as 400 people of all ages on many days. Now in its 34th year, the event is held for five days each year, which takes place from July to August.

Participants receive a "Tyokin Passbook" and are asked to accumulate stamps. The stamps are used as shopping coupons in the shopping district. In addition to promoting good health, we hope that this event will become one of the summer memories for children in Hachimanyama.

Ninety-two with Kyodo

The origin of the name of Suzuran Street is the lily of the valley lamp installed on the street. The history is quite deep, and we have been with the city of Kyodo for 92 years from before the war to the war, during the war, and even to the present day.

Suzuran Street is very convenient because there are shops of a wide range of genres such as service industry, shopping, hospitals, food and beverage. Also, in the past, a candy store on Suzuran Street has been featured on TV programs.

This candy store is about a 10-minute walk from Kyodo Station and has a retro look that tells the history of the shopping street. The shop itself is very small and not very noticeable, but it is a persistently popular shop among local children. In addition, this store sells not only sweets but also various toys. This is also one of the reasons why this store is popular. This Suzuran Street, which has various shops other than candy stores, can be said to be a shopping street loved by the people of Kyodo.
